

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

Documents are read and the read image data and the information about the size of the document is stored in a memory. A factor of enlargement/reduction is calculated based on the stored size information. An image processor 204 interpolates the image data based on the calculated enlargement/reduction factor and reproduces the enlarged/reduced document.

2025-01-27 14:11:11